When The Ship Hit The Sand
Jimmy Dickens

(G) Oh my wife and I went (D) on an ocean (G) cruise
Three days out and I was sick down to my (D) shoes
And to (C) make it more forlorn, we sailed in-(G)-to a ragin' storm
Where we were nobody (D) seemed to have a (G) clue

(G) While the ship was bein' (D) tossed and thrown a-
(G)-bout
I decided that I'd take a little (D) nap
Then I (C) heard an awful noise and I (G) asked one of the boys
What had happened and you (D) should of heard him
(G) shout

"Where were (C) you when the ship hit the (G) sand"
I said, "I was in there prayin' for dry (D) land
With a (C) bucket and my breakfast in my (G) hand"
"Where were you when the (D) ship hit the (G) sand"

(G) Oh the captain he came a-(D)-runnin up on (G) deck
He was a-lookin' kinda pale around the (D) neck
As he (C) sat there shoutin' orders, I stood (G) splashin' in the water
And I asked exactly (D) what you might ex-(G)-pect

"Where were (C) you when the ship hit the (G) sand"
I said, "I was in there prayin' for dry (D) land
With a (C) bucket and my breakfast in my (G) hand"
"Where were you when the (D) ship hit the (G) sand"
"Where were you when the (D) ship hit the (G) sand"
