Yeah, you know I need my cigarettes,
I need my cyber sex, to keep me sane
I crave the things that others just regret
Like drunken flirty texts and shagging in the rain
I've got my eye on someone else's girl,
He said she makes his world, that I live in
I put a smile upon her face,
If she'd pick up the pace and let me in

But you're wasting time (You're wasting time)
I think it's time I left myself behind
I heard your boyfriend didn't come back home last night

And I can't stop this feeling,
I bounce off the ceiling, I bang my head on the floor
No I can't stop this feeling,
This feeling's deceiving, I'm feeling a little bit sore
And I just can't take anymore

I just can't take anymore
I just can't take anymore
I just can't take anymore
I just can't take anymore

Yeah, you know I need my cigarettes,
I need my cyber sex, to keep me sane
I crave the things that others just regret
Like drunken flirty texts and shagging in the rain
I've got my eye on someone else's girl,
He said she makes his world, that I live in
I put a smile upon her face,
If she'd pick up the pace and let me in

But you're wasting time (You're wasting time)
I think it's time I left myself behind
I heard your boyfriend didn't come back home last
night

And I can't stop this feeling,
I bounce off the ceiling, I bang my head on the floor

No I can't stop this feeling,
This feeling's deceiving, I'm feeling a little bit sore
And I just can't take anymore

I just can't take anymore
I just can't take anymore
I just can't take anymore
I just can't take anymore

And I can't stop this feeling,
I bounce off the ceiling, I bang my head on the floor
No I can't stop this feeling,
This feeling's deceiving, I'm feeling a little bit sore

No I just can't take anymore, I can't take any
I just can't take anymore, I can't take any
I just can't take anymore, I can't take any
I just can't take anymore, I can't take anymore
