

Little League "Kill Verona"

Visit "Kill Verona" on MotoLyrics.com

Sometimes I have to remind myself about giving up.
And so the things that drive me, they keep me up. I have to keep my eyes glued open because I could sleep on a floor of answers and still be asking questions. Please take my words and we'll take the world. I've found the ones who I can trust. I've always taken your hand. For you I'd cut mine off. Just count on us when tomorrow's gone. Sometimes I have to remind myself about showing off. Because that's the way you fall when you're not paying attention. I'll find myself face down on the same floor reading all the answers But could I still be asking questions? Let's put this back together. I feel it's been forever. I'm taken back by the way you run. Taken back by the way your strong. I'm taken back by it all.

Visit Little League page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.