miss integrity your face is turning red again now something no one needs to see so if you follow through with your intentions all your fretting can all get washed away right before your eyes don't realize understanding all depends knowing if you're winning keep up to the pace so if you meet it less at your discretion all your fretting will all get harder to deal with than i ever thought that it would be on you if you're going to sleep it off it's not my style why the sudden change you're neglecting everything built complex your doubt of honesty has all been self inspired stronger than you make yourself to be rejected is how you feel this time all's the same needless to say shrug it off before all gained respect turns into nothing more
