today i felt the weight compelling not the first it's not the best i've been no thoughts come out worth saying self tension has limited what am i committing myself to resistance is going no where it still counts to you more than anything when you're around pocket all of my attention filter out you fault touches no one, it just happens, no one wins i guess it all depends tomorrow i'll feel the weight times ten no thoughts to speak, no self expression complacency is all i need insight of what's important to me you don't know me, just pretend to important to me isn't to you why i seal off all connections self tension has got to end
