I DON'T WORRY NO MORE
WRITER BEEB BIRTLES

I don't worry no more, I've given up tryin', it's just like before, people pass by me, who try to criticize me, you're coming back to knock on my door. I don't worry no more, I don't worry no more. Am I losing my mind, am I losing all direction, is my approach the wrong kind, everyday confusion, is giving me illusion, my sanity I'm trying to find. Am I losing my mind, am I losing my mind. I keep on thinkin' tomorrow, will bring a brighter today, and if I beg, steal or borrow, there's no use running away, you know what people will say ... "Never thinking on your own, you sit home by the telephone, I'm telling you right from the start, what you must do will break your heart ..." I don't worry no more, I've given up cryin', it's just like before, people pass by me, who try to criticize me, you're coming back to knock on my door. I don't worry no more, I don't worry no more. I keep on thinkin' tomorrow, will bring a brighter today, and if I beg, steal or borrow, there's no use running away, you know what people will say ... You know what people will say ... That's why I don't worry no more ... I've given up tryin' ... I don't worry no more, Don't worry no more.
