I found out that you care for another guy
I found out that you want for another smile
We are alone as two different people can be
And it's hurting me so just to know
That you don't care for me

The other guy won't be around to talk to our kids
He won't understand when you're down the way that I did
We had it all you and I
We just need to try again

I found out that your hearts with another guy
You found out that you're telling another lie
We've come apart
We're going our own separate ways
And you don't understand why I love you
And want you to stay...

Chorus

You don't know it's me that you need
You're thinkin' of him and I can't compete
But I'm here to say I still want you back again

Chorus (3x)
