I've changed my mind
Things don't really seem so bad this time
I've learned my lesson
Though it hurt my pride

So on we go, crazy rockin', rollin' rodeo
I need you more now than I did before
Changing my point of view
Is teaching me something new

Guiding light I need you here tonight
I'm walking in the dark alone, close the door
A thousand years or more
Until my guiding light comes shining through

Morning star how you found me wandering near and far
This wounded memory wears like a scar
They all say time will heal
But they don't know how I feel

Guiding light I need you here tonight
I'm walking in the dark alone, close the door
A thousand years or more
Until my guiding light comes shining through

Comes shining through, shining through Comes shining through
