Don't take it so hard
You know in the end
When the heartache is gone
That the feelings always live on

The peace that I found
Holding you
No one else would do
And the love links for all time, for all time

Don't let the hurt show
You have to let go
You can't keep holding on
To what you know is gone
Love will survive

Don't try to stay
There ain't no way
You can't keep holding on
To what you know is gone
And you will find that your love will survive

The memories fade
The past disappears
Even though you're alone
You must still carry on

Somewhere in the night
You'll find someone else
Who will answer your call
Then you'll find that love will survive, will survive

Don't let the hurt show
You have to let go
You can't keep holding on
To what you know is gone
Love will survive

Don't try to stay
There ain't no way
You can't keep holding on
To what you know is gone

And you will find that your love will survive

Yes, I know that it's all so confusing
When it seems like you're losing
And you don't understand

Oh, don't give up, don't give in
For as one day ends
Another begins, another begins

Don't let the hurt show
You have to let go
You can't keep holding on
To what you know is gone
Love will survive

Don't try to stay
There ain't no way
To what you know is gone
And you will find that your love will survive
Yes, you'll find that your love will survive

Love will survive
Love will survive
