if I were you your gonna die tonight you did something wrong & you know it wasnt right money means much more to you feeling you had to screw the friends you had the friends you knew all they were was nice to you life is such a lonely place and theres no one you can trust.... because money changes everything yes money

money changes everything... you think you know what your doing you dont know a thing and life is such a lonely place when theres no one you can trust...

no the time has come for me to go and die
I have to go away
I have to say goodbye
I Wish That I Could See The Day To See You you Burn To See The Gage who cares you die in rubble rush Some People Turn To Ashes N Dust
Life Is Such A Lonely Place
And Theres No One I Can Trust ....

'cause Money
Money Changes Everything
Yes Money
Money Changes Everything we think we know what were doing we dont know a thing!
when theres no one you can trust...

no one to trust...

money money money ... changes everything money... changes! everything!
