I caught a glimpse of heaven last night to
The left of your body to the right of your Mind lost in a riddle I was helpless to Understand I went to a healer, the healer
Held my hand she said all of these things
Are written in the sand behind me

Oh, I dream about you every night I call
Your name the whole world thinks that i
Am insane here I come again, yeah

I caught a glimpse of heaven last night
Through a crack in the mirror that
Fractalized the light a saint is a sinner, a
Sinner is a saint it's all just the cloaks we Hide behind a cartoon in the brain

And I say, all of these things are written in
The sand behind me

Oh, I dream about you every night I call
Your name the whole world thinks that i
Am insane here I come again oh, playin
The hero of love takin' you higher I wanna
Be your hero of love is it gettin' better? is
It gettin' brighter? I wanna be your hero
Your hero of love

I caught a glimpse of heaven last night
Was that a number 96 or was it a 69? oh, i
Was lost in a riddle I was helpless to Understand I went to a lover this lover
Held my hand she said all of these things
Are just written in the sand behind me
