"Life Marches On"

In the country The farms and the orchards swell With oranges and peaches A little bit of truth as well In the city Politicians beat their drum It's all degeneration All the suits come a runnin' Life Marches On Life Marches On Life Marches On In the country But we built the fire Everybody thinks we're dumb Why'd you come and get you some? What's the use in being so high up In the city, skyscrapers touch the sky When it's only gonna bleed you dry? Life Marches On Life Marches On Life Marches On In the country Than in the city In the country The stars shine brighter In the country In the city Only leaves me down with the question: I turn on the radio What happened to our generation? Life Marches On Life Marches On Life Marches On Oh yeah, yeah Life Marches On Life Marches On Oh yeah Life Marches On Life Marches On
