So many people, I know only a few
Yes I may say that I love this man and that man
But what keeps me from loving you?

Date of birth, geography
The color of my skin, ideology now
You got ten fingers, two legs, one nose
Like me, just like me yeah
And it's as simple as that you see

And if I don't know who to love, I love them all
And if I don't know who to trust, I trust them all
And if I don't know who to kill, I kill myself instead Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah

From the mouth of a baby
Will come the world saving words that will save us all
And from the lungs of a child
Will come the everlasting breath of God

Increasing peace and honesty, yeah
And not carrying on despite of me you know, how much you know?
This ain't about no race and no creed, no race, no creed, yeah
And it's as simple as that you see

And if I don't know who to love, I love them all
And if I don't know who to trust, I trust them all
And if I don't know who to kill, no suicide, I'm already dead, yeah

It's simple as that, it's simple as that
It's simple as that my brother
It's simple as that, it's simple as that
It's simple as that oh
It's simple as that, it's simple as that
It's simple as that my brother, yeah
It's simple as that, it's simple as that
It's simple as that, but this time

It's simple as that, it's simple as that

It's simple as that yeah
It's got to be simple as that children
Oh you'll see Lord
Oh I'm dying

And if I don't know who to love, I love them all
And if I don't know who to trust, I trust them all
And if I don't know who to kill, no suicide, I'm already dead

If I don't know who to love
And if I don't know who to trust
And if I don't know who to kill
No suicide, I'm already dead
