Maybe it's the way the sun fills the sky
The wind blowing through my hair on a summer night
Creation Speaks to me, it's the voice that sets me free
It's a peace that never dies

Maybe it's the smell of the pouring rain
The power of the crashing waves
Creation sings a song, to this world that we belong
It sings of power that saves

All Heaven declares Your power

All the earth proclaims Your glory
All creation sings of Your beauty
Revealing more of Your love

It sings holy, mighty, beautiful
Glory, majesty, holy is the Lord

Maybe it's the wander of a shooting star
A newborn baby in a mother's arms
The way the river flows, it's a mystery that grows
You reveal it in my heart
