"Growing Up"

I'm lying on my head, no I'm not in my bed
Just checkin' out the world from a different angle That's what happens when you trip on your blindness Always seems for some reason that it is happening to me
Why is it so, and why don't I know?
Why is it so, I can't see the obstacle in front of me Christ, I'm falling down again, It happens to me now and then
I'm growing up yeah, growing up yeah
I won't let it fade away, I promise to be strong and brave
I'm growing up yeah, growing up yeah
Open up your eyes and maybe then you'll realise The truth is in the thoughts you hold and not the obstacle in front of you
