Life for a razorblade
History on replay
Heading for judgement day
The architects of fate
Decide the next mistake

This is an energy
This is the only way
No time to hesitate
I'm getting on that train,
This revolution's late

This song's for the lonely

Another chance to take
Another point to make
Why do I hesitate?
C'mon and give me a sight
Sight

We're in the moment now
We're back inside the crowd
There is no slowing down
The rhythm of the times
Times

We always knew that we would win the war
We never knew what we were fighting for

This song's for the lonely
You're not the only one
This song's for the lonely

Love is a warning but we don't believe
Love is whatever we want it to be
Love is divided, with nothing in between
We're living inside a dream

We always knew that we would win the war
We never knew what we were fighting for

This song's for the lonely
You're not the only one
This song's for the lonely
