

Living Sacrifice "Gone Too Far"

Visit "Gone Too Far" on MotoLyrics.com

You walk away and let me feel the things I do.
You're so damn proud, I wear that shroud in place of you
I cast away the lot of all the things you do
You're too strung out, you can't see out the way I do but I do.

Gone too Far
Something about the way you make me feel

I think I've grown but you disown who question you
You seek me out, I cast my doubts about your truth
You take away the point to all the things I do
I break you down, I wrest your crown apart from you,
I part from you

Gone too Far
Something about the way you make me feel

You can't control now the things all inside I don't feel it.

You've walked away and let me feel the things I do
Your empty words seem so unheard become my fuel
And so I'll take the things inside I get from you Your hallowed ground seemed so damn sound before I knew,
before I knew..

Gone too Far
Something about the way you make me feel.

Visit Living Sacrifice page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.