Moral laws do not apply
The mind is capable to justify

The madman has come
The madness attacks my mind
Cannot comprehend a purpose in randomness
Where is God? Have you killed him?

Self-aware observation, thousands of years
Finite greatness, finite cruelty

Which is the standard of man
Without God? Meaningless
Which is the standard of man?
No rationale for what exists

The madman has come
The madness attacks my mind
Cannot comprehend a purpose in randomness
Where is God? Have you killed him?

Liberation of no law
Exhilaration of no God
Justified in the mind
Leads to horrors of every kind

What if there was a gun to your head?
Would it not matter?
What if there was a gun to your head?
No meaning in your death

The madman has come
The madness attacks my mind
Cannot comprehend a purpose in randomness
Where is God? Have you killed him?
