Up on a plate..
They're just enough to satiate
And all your reflections well they couldn't make a decent person for me to face..

You'll never change
You'll never change your ways..

All of the times that I knew you're awake
Thinking of ways to make me pay
You know how to push me,
You know what to say..
The perfect phrasing to make me break.

And all the fucked up things you say
And all the pretty games you play
They all will make it go away..

But in the end,
well it's all the same
When you're in love
there's a lot to fake
