Writhing in love you swear what you feel is real Bending your every illusion
You fake it all too well Numbing the mind rest inside that hate left unspoken Tasting the truth it's shy afraid to be broken

And it's humbling
This pain you feel inside
And it's stuttering
These words that I must try

Seeing the unheard you know that it cannot heal Breaking the bonds you swear that you swear to feel Can you awake from sleep downed you allow me to steal Gagging on selfish hide when you crawl to kneel

And it's humbling
This pain you feel inside
And it's stuttering
These words that I must try

And I'm choking on love
I made you feel.
