I'll sit inside my room
Windows open listening to the world
Sometimes I think about
I'm Fascinated by the ones who brought us here
I find it hard to swallow just have far we've come
I think I've taken...

These things for granted
Let's start right now and write it down
Later is better
So we can look back on

These things for granted
Let's start right now and write it down
Later is better
So we can look back on

Things we never think about.

I'll wait for you outside your house
In my car, listening to our song
And suddenly it means, something (something) more
It just took a while, now your gone
I think I've taken...

These things for granted
Let's start right now and write it down
Later is better
So we can look back on

These things for granted
Let's start right now and write it down
Later is better
So we can look back on

These things for granted
Let's start right now and write it down
Later is better
So we can look back on

Noises we hear, one there gone
Noises we hear, one there gone

Noises we hear, one there gone
Once there all gone
Once there all
Once there all
