These word don't come easy and what I say only makes thing worse
Covered up stories for harsh realities
I knew you'd take it the wrong way, it's just something I have to say

When all is said and done

These words begin to flow
And it'd make a lot more sense
For these things that you now know Let me drop a beat, and watch it all go

I thought that I,
I thought that I was different from the boys you see It turns out I'm as bad, so don't take a second look at me

When all is said and done

These words don't come easy and what I say only makes things worse
Covered up stories for harsh realities
have to say
I thought that I was different from the boys you used to see
Turns out I'm as bad so don't take a second look at me
