I gave you up she's got you now and you're not mine no more Yet everytime I turn around you're knocking on my door Somehow I can't get through to you to her you now belong
So be fair to her be faithful and be gone
It's funny just how easily the tables turn around It seem so strange for me to be the other woman now Don't hang around the way you do to her you now belong
So be fair to her be faithful and be gone
[piano]
You're sorry now you want me back just like I knew you would
But when I gave you up that day I gave you up for good When you chose her instead of me the choise was all your own
So be fair to her be faithful and be gone
It's funny just how easily...
