The one you thought we'd never lose just stopped and walked away
Remember how I always said he'd do just that someday
He takes so much and then no more I try to make you see
So eyes don't come crying to me I feel the teardrops trying to break through I wish I could feel sorrier for you But I warned you this is how the end would be so eyes don't come crying to me

He loved us so it's true but know you have to look around
He just got tired of feeling like the biggest fool in town Right now I'm alone on loneliness but you're on sympathy
So eyes don't come crying to me
I feel the teardrops trying...
So eyes don't come crying to me
