(Never never)

Love's gone away so now you say you'll never love again

Love's hurt you so and you just know the pain will never end

You feel like this and never is an easy word to say but never is a long long day

Never say never whatever you say never is a long long long lonesome day

Is not the shore made up of more than just one grain of sand

Does not the day give more away than just one hour to spend

And love's the same you think the pain will never go away but never is a long long day

long lonesome day

Never is a long long long lonesome day
