I fell in love along the way, somewhere I couldn't stay
But it's nice to take a detour sometimes You drove me out in your rented car, we didn't have to go too far
To look back on the city lights

Some things aren't that different
But other things, they change

You've got the world at your feet, with everything you need
Tell me, are you satisfied?
It all comes easily to you, with everything you do
Tell me, are you satisfied?

I came, I saw, I kicked its ass
I walked away, and I never looked back
I remember you, when you held my hair
As I puked, oh, everywhere

Some things aren't that different
But other things, they change

You've got the world at your feet, with everything you
need
Tell me, are you satisfied?
It all comes easily to you, with everything you do
But tell me, are you satisfied?

I want to be like you
You want to be like me

You've got the world at your feet, with everything you
need
But tell me, are you satisfied?
It all comes easily to you, with everything you do
But tell me, are you satisfied?

(I felt it turn along the way, somewhere I couldn't stay
But tell me, are you satisfied?)
