

Liz Phair

"See The Light"

Visit "See The Light" on MotoLyrics.com

You want me home
But I'm gone all night
We've probably been in
Some kind of fight
But if that's not real
And that's not right
And I'm beginning to see the light
Yes, I'm beginning to see the light
When all the stars up in heaven
Were rushed by an angel
To see the light in your face better
And if only God would listen
He would surely create us
A hope of His everlasting grace.
And I may be young,
But I still know
The things you put down
Can rise from below
And I can hardly believe
You would lay this at my door

'Cause I have heard that song before
Yes, I have heard that song before
When all the stars up in heaven
Were rushed by an angel
To see your face better
And if only God would listen
He would surely create us
A hope of His everlasting grace.
You want me home
But I'm gone all night
And we've probably been in some kind of fight
And if that's not real
And that's not right
I'm beginning to see the light
Yes, I'm beginning to see the light.

Visit Liz Phair page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.