feat. Eddie Van Halen

If they tell us cause once were gone
Never leave until its done
Be thy the greatest of all
Do it well or not at all

Mama we made it, hey
Were finally the greatest of the world
I told you wed make it
Were finally the greatest

Knock knock, whos there?
The one, remember me?
Im looking kinda different these days, dont you agree?
Your boys going big these days, didnt you see?
To hell with the devil, theres no sympathy
The wishes in my past are still riding me
All I can do is laugh as they lie to me
You cant take my God from inside of me
Crosses up, light up the sky with me
I got a lot of crazy, crazy on my mind
Like whats the real reason that the pope resigned?
I got Van Halen, I dont need a baseline
I knew we can do it, it was just a matter of time
Put the apple back on the tree, the grape on the vine
I came back to take back everything that was mine
If I live to be 109 Im still in my prime
If I dont then I dont, Ill live on in your mind

Mama we made it, hey
Were finally the greatest of the world
I told you wed make it
Were finally the greatest

Im on a hacksaw tour, Eddie got Frankenstein aimed at your door
Speakers under the stage, lift you off of the floor
Why? Cause music is the end to the war
We endure, cameras everywhere, everyone is keeping score

Everybody talking about what somebody saw
The world is at stake, Imma chew it up raw
We back in heavy metal like we above the law
London, Japan, Germany and France
Lisbon to New York, were live up in Netherlands
Jump up on some shoulders baby, you never dance
You only live once, come on, heres your chance
You could be reborn, half god, half man
If you rise up and grab my hand
If I live to be 109 Im still in my prime
If I dont then I dont, Ill live on in your mind

Mama we made it
Were finally the greatest of the world
I told you wed make it
Were finally the greatest

Eddie Van Halen
We are the greatest
Rise up

Mama we made it, hey
Were finally the greatest of the world
I told you wed make it
Were finally the greatest
