i'm sick and tired of lyin' here and thinkin' with informercials sinkin' in and i can't find my remore i won't accept the terms of this surrender 'cause there is something bigger and i feel it here today i can't just stand around and wait for somethin' 'cause i know there is nothing here that i know i can believe there's a lady on the television telling me that i can find my destiny if i look up to the stars but i can see that it's right in front of me it's here and it's clear

[chorus]

i don't wanna know if the world will end tomorrow
'cause i feel just fine i don't wanna know all the answers on this earth all i need to know is that you're always right there that's all i need to know well i know they say they've figured out the questions but it's hardly ever mentioned that they always change their minds

the psychics on the phone are always selling me the future they can see for me, well they can sell to someone else
'cause i can see that it's right in front of me it's here and it's clear

[chorus]

[bridge]

everything we kow is nothing more than drops into an ocean

you're the only thing that never fades away

[chorus]
