Life begins at thirty, so I have been told I can easily believe it, the way I'm getting on, yeah I'm getting on
You hang around backstreet bars for what you wish you knew
You say give me something cheap, something I won't want to keep

Love's not everything, I was just hoping you might stay Hell it's hard to say, I was hoping you might stick around

Until the morning, you've heard it all before kid I'll say it all again and I'm going to live a lush life
An ask for nothing much life

Love's not everything, I was just hoping you might stay Hell it's hard to say, I was hoping you might stick

If you were doing nothing, fool for love...
I was just hoping you might stay
But it's not easy to say, hey... You doing nothing?
Fool for love and it's not only the lonely
Not only the lonely fall for love.
