You tell me . . . you need me
And you'll never leave me
I want to believe that it's true
(Cause) if one day . . . I woke up
And found that we'd broke up
No one can take the place where there was you

[Chorus]

I could never fall in love again
There's no way I could pretend
Now that I've had the best
I searched forever
But it never could be better than this
How could my heart forget

I'd never be the same
And baby, your love's to blame
How could I settle for less . . .
Now that I've had the best

I know sure as I breathe
That your all that I need
To love you is what I'm living for
'cause you love me so deeply
So strong and completely
There's no one who could ever love me more

[Chorus]

I could never fall in love again
There's no way I could pretend
Now that I've had the best
I searched forever
But it never could be better than this
How could my heart forget

I'd never be the same
And baby, your love's to blame
How could I settle for less . . .
Now that I've had the best

No one else can measure up to

How you give me all your love

The Best . . .

If I loved ya forever it would never be enough

[Chorus]

I could never fall in love again

There's no way I could pretend

Now that I've had the best

I've searched forever

But it never could be better than this

How could my heart forget

I'd never be the same

And baby, your love's to blame

How could I settle for less . . .

Now that I've had the best

Oh baby, your the best
