Look around and realize,
Nothing's left
It's hard to remember
And easy to forget
Seems like such a perfect time
To second guess

But now is not the time to quit
Now is not the time to quit

You let them know you're alive
You let them know you've just begun
You'll never know until you try
You'll never know if you just run
(if you just run)

Their lack of faith in you is nothing new
You've just about gotten used to it
Just stick around is all that's left to do

'Cause now is not the time to quit,
Now is not the time to quit
You let them know you're alive
You let them know you've just begun
You'll never know until you try
You'll never know if you just run

It's now or never (or never)
It's time to come back
(to come back)
'Cause now is forever
It's time
Time to get through this

You let them know you're alive
You let them know you've just begun

You're alive
You let them know
You let them know you're alive
You let them know

You let them know you're alive

You let them know you're alive

You let them know you've just begun

You'll never know until you try

You'll never know if you just run
