VERSE 1

Jennifer, convinced it was her destiny
Tried to find herself in other galaxies
Armed with nothing more than a telescope
A head filled with denial and a sense of hope

CHORUS 1

A telescope is used to find
Beautiful distant skies
Did you expect to find yourself

Staring into space waiting for replies
To questions that have answers you don't want to find
Never changes anything unless you find
Another universe in which to run and hide

CHORUS 2

A telescope is used to find
Beautiful distant skies
Did you expect to find yourself
That telescope beat up and scratched
Cannot see into your past
Did you expect to find yourself

MIDDLE 8

Nothing really changed
To this day
She still stares skyward

CHORUS 3

A telescope is used to find
Beautiful distant skies
Did you expect to find yourself
That telescope beat up and scratched
Cannot see into your past
Did you expect to find yourself
