Yeah, I made a promise to love myself
But somehow I don't think I'm gonna make it Yeah, is that me behind the screen?
I see some shapes but I can't see any faces

An ego might not be so bad, it could be something I should have
I can't make my mind up, help me with this while I grip
this
I made a promise to myself but I think I'll need some help
If you see something that is good in me, won't you tell me?
And maybe I'd be something you could stand

Yeah, I made a promise to love myself
I think this could be good for you as well as me Yeah, I know I'm not that much fun
The joke I have become doesn't make you laugh

An ego might not be so bad, it could be something I should have
I can't make my mind up, help me with this while I grip
I made a promise to myself but I think I'll need some
help
If you see something that is good in me, won't you tell me?
And maybe I'd be something you could stand

Here comes the doubt again, here comes the doubt again
Here comes the doubt again, here comes the doubt Here comes the doubt again, here comes the doubt
again
Here comes the doubt again, here comes the doubt
Here comes the doubt, here comes the doubt
Here comes the doubt, here comes the doubt

An ego might not be so bad, it could be something I should have
I can't make my mind up, help me with this while I grip

I made a promise to myself but I think I'll need some
help
If you see something that is good in me, won't you tell me?

An ego might not be so bad, it could be something I should have
I can't make my mind up, help me with this while I grip
