Maybe you and me
And our sad history
Are gonna go and get the best of us in the end
And maybe wait and see
Is the right way to be
To see if all this evil is just another fucking trend

Hey, hello where'd ya go
You disappear from time to time
And I've been known to change my mind
Hey, hello where'd ya go
You take her up and fly her blind
And god knows I can't change your mind

Maybe you should see
That you never show your mercy
And I should just cut the rope and let my body down

Hey, hello where'd ya go
You disappear from time to time
And I've been known to change my mind
Hey, hello where'd ya go
You take her up and fly her blind
And fall asleep to the edge and whine

Hey, hello where'd ya go
I can't seem to walk away the debt grows deeper everyday

Maybe you and me
And our sad history
Could mean nothing
We could be something

We could be something
That's worth every penny that we save Every little penny that is dragging us to the bottom of the sea
Maybe you and me are over now forever
Or maybe I just need you too much for that to ever be

Hey, hello where'd ya go
You disappear from time to time
And I've been known to change my mind
Hey hello where'd ya go
We'll take her up and fly her blind
And fall asleep to the edge and whine

Attention, attention, attention, attention
I know your down
I know your scared
I know all this is getting old
Attention, attention, attention, attention
But believe it when I say
That's there's another story left untold
