When you aren't alone.
You can't admit there's more.
To this relationship.

Thoughts untold the truth unfolds.
Words that you'd never think you'd hear.
Cover the tracks none of it is fact.
Whispered words (that) were never really said.
We swore we'd learned ourselves a lesson.
We swore we'd never go through this again.
Sometimes you can't deny the feeling.
Sometimes you can't stand being called a friend.

But when you aren't alone you can't.
Admit there's more to this.
Than just another relationship

We swore we'd learned ourselves a lesson.
We swore we'd never go through this again.
Sometimes you can't deny the feeling.
Sometimes you can't stand being called a friend.
Thoughts untold the truth unfolds.
Words that you'd never think you'd hear.
Cover the tracks none of it is fact.
Whispered words (that) were never really said.

Thoughts untold the truth unfolds.
Words that you'd never think you'd hear.
Cover the tracks none of it is fact.
Whispered words (that) were never really said
