Chorus: I call it a love rush, so ease up, can't help but to touch so please just, let me run my hands up and down your body, caught up in a dance, a love rush and call me, tell me it's. (x2)

Pulling your hair, would do detail, but I shouldn't go there, the light seems just to float upon us, I likely won't let go I promise, caught up in the moment, honest, slow up, now just hold up, flaunt it. I can't get enough, this love rush, has got me dying just to touch, I might get a little out of line tonight, gripping you, I figure that you're mine tonight, go with it, I'm a little out my mind tonight, so with it, in the middle of the thing I call a love rush.

Chorus: I call it a love rush, so ease up, can't help but to touch so please just, let me run my hands up and down your body, caught up in a dance, a love rush and call me, tell me it's. (x2)

You can tell me, if I'm too much, I don't care who's around me, I'm like that, just give me two seconds, you bet, I'll be right back, head through the back door, finish a night cap, now take this, take these, take those, sip that, take me, ease up, sit back, break free, do whatever you want, just make me, go reckless, accept it, intense, aggressive, its endless, a fetish, reckon it's better than anything that I did, like a fling, but I tend just to think it's a love rush.

Chorus: I call it a love rush, so ease up, can't help but to touch so please just, let me run my hands up and down your body, caught up in a dance, a love rush and call me, tell me it's. (x2)
