Digging through Jennifer's garbage
Looking for cigarette butts
I am going to smoke
Every last one of them
With you laying awake

Shake your head all you want
I did not ask for your permission
It was given to me
It was given to me

You are shrinking me
You are weakening my spirit
I was so right to expect this
I was so right

I think I could have loved you forever
Wipe the black from my eyes
Pick myself up off this planet
And notice how different I am

Now I wait for my emotions to drain
And then for my eyes
I am waiting for you
To come back to your senses
But I am wasting my time

Putting my heart into boxes
I am taping you shut
All the power of Jesus
Wouldn't let me forget
