"Kiss You Goodbye"

This has been on my mind for a long time
I think this is the moment
The right moment
This day had to come

When the moon turns to sun you'll be gone
How can I carry on all alone
I don't know why you came into my heart

Endlessly you'll begin to ascend
Like the leaf getting caught by the wind
If I could I would catch you my friend
Now it's time to kiss you goodbye

It's time for me to kiss you goodbye
Don't worry for in my heart you will always remain

When the moon turns to sun you'll be gone
How will life be when we are apart
You will always remain inside my heart

Tell me what's in the mirror at night
Are you there when I turn out the light
If I could I would stop time tonight
Now it's time to kiss you goodbye
What tomorrow brings we will come to know

Let me take you to the doors of infinity
And kiss you on the head and say goodbye
Don't worry,

Everything comes to an end
I just wanna let you win
It's not a secret you are my friend
This is the message that I will send
When the moon eclipses the sun
When the countdown has begun
And my hands pulls away
And goodbyes the only thing left to say
Then you will know that you've been missed
You had a home where you were kissed

If we take all the time
All the thoughts on my mind
We could build make a bridge
Cross it fast so we could live
Sorry but I have to let you go
I had to give you time and space so you could grow.

Cuz what tomorrow brings we will come to know
I say it again
Cuz what tomorrow brings we will come to know
You will always be special in my life
We will move on, we will move on
