It was all I could do tonight
To get it up
Get it in
Get you out of here

And all I could see with my eyes
Was the fog
Of your breath
In the atmosphere

These cold seats are wearing out
Like your eyes
And my hair
And this broken town

After a hundred years of letting me down
You're free to go
Free to roam
Take my whole life with you

Take my whole life with you
Take my whole life
Take my whole life with you
Take my whole life

Boxing up pieces of years
Fold them up
Tape them shut
Stack them on the ground

I've moved so far away
You're right, I'm wrong
It's all my fault
I cannot hear the sound

You can try to scream your words
But I won't listen
As you go
Please take this broken heart with you

Take my whole life with you

Take my whole life
Take my whole life with you
Take my whole life

A hundred years is a long time to wait in line
To wait in line
A hundred years is a long time to wait in line
To wait in line

Take my whole life with you
Take my whole life
Take my whole life with you
Take my whole life
