when everything is yours you never want for anything because everything you touch turns to gold you melt the hearts of angry men far and wide just like you have done to mine so can i be yours?

I've never wanted anything more take my hand, let's go explore the world because everything is yours

so can i be yours too?
i just want to stay here with you
