There is magic in the sky tonight
And I am pretty sure it's not in my mind
Cuz my eyes are open wide
My eyes are open wide

You and your grass stains
You and your tennis whites
I wait for you all day while you
Run for your life
So take a stab at the night
And I'll chase the light
I wait for you all day while you
Run for your life

You lost me on the 4th of July
And in one fell swoop
My heart turned to stone
My heart turned to stone

You and your grass stains
You and your tennis whites
I wait for you all day while you
Run for your life
So take a stab at the night
And I'll chase the light
I wait for you all day while you
Run for your life

So let's burn it down together
We can make it RED and let it go
Our faces flush with fever
Our faces flush with fever

You and your grass stains
You and your tennis whites
I wait for you all day while you
Run for your life
So take a stab at the night
And I'll chase the light
I wait for you all day while you
Run for your life

I wait for you all day while you
Run for your life
I wait for you all day while you
Run for your life
