"Things Are Looking Up"

I used to be clay
You could mold me
But time made me cold and hard
It's been dark for some time
And every day I fight
To cast out the night

I used to want pain
You could not hold me
Because no one can control me
It's been that way all my life
And every day I try

I say:
"Things are looking up"
"Things are getting better"
"Well things are looking up"
"Things have got to get better"
Cuz it's been hard for some time
But every day I try

I say:
"Things are looking up"
"Things are getting better"
"Well things are looking up"
"Things have got to get better"
Cuz it's been hard for some time
But every day I try
To cast out the night
