I wish I could see your face again
Memories don't last forever

Summer starts tonight
Reminding me of past times
The air is getting clear
The cigarette tastes better
I remember all the times we sat and talked about almost everything
Times gets counted out as we forget it can defeat
anything

I wish I could see your face again
Memories don't last forever
I wish I could see your face again

I hear you're married now
You won't return my phone calls
I guess the rumor is true
Do you think about me?
I remember all the times we sat and talked about
almost everything
Time gets counted out as we forget it can defeat
anything

I wish I could see your face again
Memories don't last forever
I wish I could see your face again

Is this how you feel?

I wish I could see your face again
Memories don't last forever
I wish I could see your face again
Memories don't last forever
I wish I could see your face again
Memories don't last forever
I wish I could see your face again
