Daylight falls too hard
I can't believe my eyes
What, what have I done?
Should've never lost control
I smashed away the good old days
And I can never go home
I wish that I could

Tear out a page
Take back the words that got away
I'll take the blame for one solitary life

Cold fright, something's wrong
I thought it was my right
What, what have I done?
I can't mend what I've torn apart
I cut the line one last time
And now I've fallen too far
I wish that I could

Tear out a page
Take back the words that got away
I'll take the blame for one solitary life

No excuse, no surprise
Morning has broken me down and cut me to size

I wish that I could tear out a page
Take back the words that got away
One solitary life

One solitary life
