"Front Steps"

I was locked out
Of the house that one day.
Tried the screen door but
But know one came.

So I sat right down
On the front steps
Started singing this old song.

"Oh, the days pass by faster than ever
Sing your dreams coming in the breeze
When you smile it lights up the world"

But now I'm locked out
On the ground
Singing this sweet old song
Lovin' you wishing I was huggin' you
That is all I really wanna do.

But I am stuck on the front steps.
On the front steps
I will sit here waiting for you to come home.

But now I'm locked out
On the ground
Singing this sweet little song
Lovin' you and wishing you would hurry
Because, my dear it is getting rather cold.

On the old wood front steps

Oh, oh
