I know I'm more selfish now
Would it calm my heart to believe somehow

Have you seen your house
A month after world tracks in
You could sweep it up
And move in tomorrow

'Cause every day since then you have been gone
And she feels like a movie star in your arms
And she holds on for one more day now

I pretend to be your best friend
Though I want it more
Too bad I'm a bore

Have you seen your house

A month after world tracks in
You could sweep it up
And move in tomorrow

'Cause every day since then you have been gone
And she feels like a movie star in your arms
And she holds on, and she holds on
And she holds on for one more day now
This is what I have been made of
To believe it is enough
This is what I'm after
'Cause everyday since then you have been gone
