I don't wanna say too much, don't wanna cross the line
I know I've got a tendency for talking all the time
Don't wanna see you hurting, it makes me wanna cry
I promise I'll be back soon, you watch the time will fly

Twisting roads, they bring you near me,
They're signposted, oh so clearly
In my heart, you're always with me
I'll follow those twisting roads

Twisting roads will bring me back to you
Wherever they lead, they all come back to you
Twisting roads, wherever they may go
I'll follow those twisting roads
To bring me home to you

You say you're keeping busy to occupy your mind
Say the seconds are minutes and the hours a lifetime
But baby I'll be home soon, and things will work out fine
Just have a little faith in us, and put your hand in mine

All we have is one another
Don't let this flame ever be smothered
You're my friend, my soul, my lover
I'll follow those twisting road

Twisting roads will bring me back to you
Wherever they lead, they all come back to you
Twisting roads, wherever they may go
I'll follow those twisting roads
To bring me home to you

You're my friend, my soul, my lover
I'll follow those twisting road

Twisting roads will bring me back to you
Wherever they lead, they all come back to you
Twisting roads, wherever they may go
I'll follow those twisting roads
To bring me home to you
