They'll feed you lines
Call you fellow sunshine
Make it seem like their yours
But those lines
They were once hers
He whispers them to be
And they could be yours

It's just a breakdown and it happens all the time
It's just a breakdown and it happens all the time

Because because
Your words still haunt me
This circle keeps goin' round
And you're causing me insanity
With you life's a prison
Build me up
See you, good riddance
I can't take this again
Dear heart, stop lying

Maybe someday I'll get it right
Stop eating your words and live by mine
Look in the mirror and find some peace
Burn your letters down
And maybe get some sleep
Wait alone and
You're trapped
Tell me I'm loved, don't use me like that

It's just a breakdown and it happens all the time
It's just a breakdown and it happens all the time

Because because
Your words still haunt me
This circle keeps goin' round
And you're causing me insanity
With you life's a prison
Build me up
See you, good riddance
I can't take this again

Dear heart, stop lying

I know what you're thinking
Thinking I'm just a pawn
Well here's a newsflash
I'm just as sturdy
You cannot break me
You cannot break me
You cannot break me
You can't break what's already broken

Because because
Your words still haunt me
And you're causing me insanity
With you life's a prison
Build me up
See you, good riddance
I won't take this again
Dear heart, dear heart

Stop lying
Stop lying
Stop lying
