"Better Love"

I remember how the sun came shining through the trees made shadows on the road
I was driving home the morning after with the taste of you still on my tongue

You are my safety zone
I live and breathe in you

I'll never find a better love not in a minute
I'll never find a better love not in a minute
never a better love never a better love
not in a minute

On the harbour bridge the rain was gently falling down on a lazy summer day your face appeared there on my windscreen you smiled and slipped away

You are my safety zone

not in a minute
